Domain protection was a marketing protection problem, now it's a threat intel problem.

—Fusion Manager: Cyber Crimes & Threat Intelligence at a Fortune 500 Bank

I've loved working with Bolster and it definitely makes my job easier. We are constantly battling with counterfeiters and fake accounts. Customers are enticed to purchase lower priced counterfeit goods, while the sellers in question use our trademarks and proprietary information. Bolster is excellent at getting these fake accounts and counterfeiters taken down and has really helped our business.
